

Vietnamese Wild Caught Shrimp

with Brothy Noodles & Snow Peas

ca. 20min

2 Servings

The ratio of time and effort to flavor has never been more disproportionate and astonishing than in this Vietnamese-style soup! Just the right ingredients, combined in just the right way, deliver a knock-out pho (pronounced fuh) in no time. The spicy oil made with aromatics at the end is also pretty pho-nomenal. In fact, we think this dish will be a pho-avorite! (Couldn't resist!)

1. Cook noodles

Bring a large saucepan of salted water to a boil. Add noodles to boiling water. Cook, stirring occasionally to prevent sticking, until just tender, 6-8 minutes. Drain noodles, then rinse under cold water; set aside until ready to serve. Reserve saucepan for step 3.

2. Prep ingredients

Peel and thinly slice ginger; stack slices and cut into very thin matchsticks. Trim scallions, then thinly slice. Trim stem end from jalapeño, then very thinly slice (discard seeds for less heat, if desired). Squeeze juice from half of the lime into a small bowl, then cut remaining half into wedges.

3. Start soup

Heat 1 tablespoon oil in reserved saucepan over medium-high. Add half each of the sliced ginger, scallions, and jalapeños. Cook, stirring, until lightly browned and fragrant, about 3 minutes. Stir in 2½ cups water, seafood broth concentrate, and ½ teaspoon salt. Simmer over medium heat, about 5 minutes.

4. Prep snow peas & shrimp

Trim snow peas, then cut in half crosswise. Rinse shrimp, then pat very dry and cut into bite-sized pieces.

5. Finish soup

Add shrimp and snow peas to soup; simmer until shrimp are pink and cooked through, and snow peas are crisp-tender, about 3 minutes. Stir in 1 tablespoon of the lime juice. Season to taste with salt.

6. Finish & serve

Heat ¼ cup oil in a small skillet over high. Add remaining sliced scallions and ginger and some of the remaining jalapeños (depending on heat preference). Cook, stirring, until sizzling and browned in spots, 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Serve noodles, shrimp, and soup drizzled with spicy oil and lime wedges alongside for squeezing over. Enjoy!
