Chinese Salt & Pepper Swai with Steamed Rice & Broccoli

20-30min

2 Servings

A takeout worthy meal that's perfect for any night of the week—what more could you want? Mild, tender swai gets a quick shake in cornstarch so that the fish can be oh so crisp when it's lightly fried. Broccoli steams in the microwave, and a final toss of the fried fish with jalapeños and savory steak seasoning packs a ton of flavor. We've got you covered!

1. Cook rice

In a small saucepan, combine rice, 1¼ cups water, and ½ teaspoon salt; bring to a boil over high heat. Cover and cook over low until rice is tender and water is absorbed, about 17 minutes. Keep covered off heat until ready to serve.

2. Prep ingredients

Thinly slice jalapeño (remove seeds if desired).

Pat fish dry, then cut into 1-inch pieces; season all over with salt and pepper.

Transfer cornstarch to a large resealable plastic bag. Add fish; close bag and shake well until each piece is evenly coated.

3. Fry fish

Heat ½-inch oil in a medium skillet over medium-high (oil should register 350°F; a pinch of cornstarch should sizzle immediately). Add fish in an even layer. Cook, flipping pieces occasionally, until lightly golden and crisp, 4–7 minutes. Transfer to a paper towel-lined plate. Carefully transfer oil to a large heatproof bowl and reserve for step 5.

4. Steam broccoli

Cut broccoli into florets, if necessary. Transfer to a bowl, cover, and microwave until crisp-tender, 2–3 minutes. Season with salt and pepper.

5. Finish & serve

Add 3 tablespoons reserved oil to skillet over high heat. Add jalapeños; cook until fragrant, 30–60 seconds. Stir in steak seasoning and cook until fragrant, about 30 seconds more. Remove from heat; add fish and toss to coat.

Serve salt and pepper fish with rice and steamed broccoli. Enjoy!
