

Green Machine Spirulina Smoothie

with Pear & Kiwi

under 20min

2 Servings

Notes from our dietitian: Spirulina is blue-green algae often described as a magical superfood. Full of plant-based protein and potent antioxidants, spirulina has been used for centuries as an anti-cancer agent and overall immune-enhancer. Add this vibrant green smoothie to your week for a no-hassle, nutrient-packed breakfast, lunch, or snack!

What we send

- 1 pear
- 2 kiwis
- ¼ oz chia seeds
- 1 pkt spirulina powder
- 1 oz maple syrup
- ¼ oz ground flax seeds
- 5 oz baby spinach
- 11 oz oat milk

What you need

- ice cubes

Tools

- blender

Allergens

May contain traces of allergenic ingredients. Packaged in a facility that packages gluten containing products.

Nutrition per serving

Calories 250kcal, Fat 7g, Carbs 43g, Protein 7g

1. Prep pear

Quarter pear, discard stem and core, and coarsely chop fruit (peel first, if desired). Transfer to a blender.

2. Prep kiwis

Halve kiwis. Use a spoon to scoop out inner fruit; discard peels. Transfer to the same blender.

3. Transfer to blender

To the blender, add chia seeds, spirulina, half of the maple syrup (or more or less depending on preferred sweetness), and ground flax.

4. Add spinach

Add spinach to blender.

5. Add oat milk

Pour oat milk into blender. Blend on high until very smooth.

6. Blend ice & serve

Add 1 cup ice and blend on high until smooth and frosty. Pour into glasses and serve. Enjoy!