1. Prep ingredients

Bring a medium saucepan of salted water to a boil (If it boils before you're ready to cook orzo in step 5, cover with a lid and reduce heat slightly).

Scrub carrots; halve lengthwise and thinly slice into half moons. Finely chop 2 teaspoons garlic. Trim scallions, then thinly slice.

2. IMPOSSIBLE VARIATION

Heat 1 tablespoon oil in a large skillet over medium-high. Add Impossible patties and season with salt and pepper. Cook, breaking up into large pieces, until well browned, 3–5 minutes (it won't be cooked through). Drain all but 1 tablespoon fat, if necessary.

3. Add veggies & aromatics

Add baharat, carrots, chopped garlic, all but 2 tablespoons of the scallions, and a pinch each of salt and pepper. Cook over medium heat, stirring, until veggies are softened and Impossible ground is heated through, 2–3 minutes.

4. Simmer Impossible ragu

Add tomato sauce and 1 cup water. Bring to a simmer. Cook over medium-high heat, stirring occasionally, until sauce is thickened and carrots are tender, 8–10 minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

5. Cook orzo & serve

Return salted water in saucepan to a boil, if necessary. Add orzo; cook, stirring occasionally to prevent sticking, until al dente, 8–9 minutes. Drain and return orzo to saucepan off heat; toss with 2 tablespoons butter. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Serve Impossible ragu over orzo sprinkled with remaining scallions. Enjoy!

6. Top it off!

Serve this hearty dish topped with a quick homemade mint yogurt for a cool finish. Combine plain yogurt, fresh chopped mint, a splash of lemon juice, and even golden raisins if you're feeling adventurous.
