1. Prep dough & veggies

Preheat oven to 500°F with a rack in the lower third. Place dough on a lightly oiled rimmed baking sheet and set aside to come to room temperature. Trim ends from zucchini, then thinly slice crosswise into ¼-inch thick rounds. Halve, peel, and cut all of the onion into ¼-inch slices. Coarsely shred mozzarella on the large holes of a box grater.

2. Cook zucchini & onions

Heat 1 tablespoon oil in a large skillet over medium-high. Add onions and cook, stirring occasionally, until slightly softened, about 3 minutes. Add zucchini and cook, stirring occasionally, until zucchini is softened and onions are well browned, about 5 minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

3. Stretch dough

On a lightly floured surface, roll or stretch dough into an 8-x 12-inch rectangle. If dough springs back, let sit 5–10 minutes, and try again. Carefully transfer to baking sheet.

4. Assemble pizza & bake

Top dough with zucchini and onions and mozzarella. Bake pizza on lower oven rack until cheese is bubbling, about 8–10 minutes (watch closely as ovens vary). Remove pizza from oven and sprinkle sun-dried tomatoes over top. Bake on lower oven rack until crust is golden-brown, about 5 minutes more (watch closely).

5. Chop olives & serve

While pizza bakes, remove pits from olives, if necessary, then thinly slice. Sprinkle olives over top of pizza. Transfer veggie pizza to a cutting board and cut into wedges to serve. Enjoy!

6. Make it picky-eater proof

This is your personal pizza, which means you can make it how you want. So, if someone doesn't like one of the ingredients at the table then top it as you please. Whether that's half veggie and half plain cheese, or adding crumbled sausage to half. You do you!
