

Crispy Firecracker Shrimp

with Broccoli & Peanuts

30min

2 Servings

Embarrassed about ordering in for the third time this week? Save some face but still indulge in a takeout worthy meal with this firecracker shrimp! A quick toss in cornstarch makes the shrimp extra crunchy when fried. Thai chili sauce and gochugaru combine to create a perfectly sticky-sweet coating. With chopped peanuts and tender broccoli thrown in the mix, your plate will be clean in no time.

1. Cook rice

In a small saucepan, combine rice, 1¼ cups water, and ½ teaspoon salt, bring to a boil over high heat. Cover and cook over low, until rice is tender and water is absorbed, about 17 minutes. Remove from heat. Keep covered until ready to serve.

4. Steam broccoli

Cut broccoli into florets, if necessary, then microwave, covered, until crisp-tender, 2-3 minutes; season with salt and pepper.

Coarsely chop peanuts.

2. Prep shrimp

Heat ¼-inch oil in a medium skillet over medium high. Rinse shrimp and pat very dry; season all over with salt and pepper.

In a medium bowl, toss cornstarch with shrimp until evenly coated.

3. Fry shrimp

When oil is shimmering (oil should register 350°F; a pinch of cornstarch should sizzle immediately), working in batches if necessary, add shrimp in an even layer. Cook, flipping pieces occasionally, until golden brown and crisp, 4-5 minutes. Transfer to a paper towel-lined plate. Carefully transfer oil to a large heatproof bowl. Wipe skillet clean.

5. Make sauce

Heat 1 teaspoon oil in same skillet over medium. Add 1 teaspoon gochugaru (or more, if desired) and cook, stirring until fragrant. Add Thai chili sauce, tamari, and 2 tablespoons water; bring to a simmer. Reduce heat to medium low and season to taste with salt and pepper.

6. Finish & serve

Add shrimp to sauce and toss until evenly coated. Thin sauce with water, 1 tablespoon at a time, if sauce is too thick. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Fluff rice with a fork and spoon onto plates. Top with firecracker shrimp and broccoli. Garnish with fried onions and chopped peanuts. Enjoy!
