Crispy Fish Katsu Sandwich with Spicy Togarashi Fries

40-50min

2 Servings

Filet-o-fish vibes with a Japanese flair! We fry panko-crusted swai to crisp perfection before piling the crunchy filets onto toasted brioche buns. A drizzle of tangy katsu sauce brings major flavor to every bite, while sprinkles of shichimi togarashi give a touch of citrusy heat to crisp oven fries. We've got you covered!

1. Bake fries

Preheat oven to 450°F with racks in the upper and lower thirds. Scrub potatoes; cut into ¾-inch thick wedges.

On a rimmed baking sheet, toss fries with shichimi togarashi and 1 tablespoon oil; season with salt and pepper. Bake on lower rack until browned and crisp, 30–35 minutes.

4. Cook fish

In a large heavy skillet, heat ¼-inch oil over medium-high until shimmering. Once oil is hot, add fish and cook until golden and crisp, 2–3 minutes per side (reduce heat if browning too quickly).

Transfer fish to a paper towel-lined plate to drain; season both sides with salt and pepper while hot.

2. Prep ingredients

Halve lettuce lengthwise; thinly shred half (save rest for own use).

Pat fish dry and cut filets in half crosswise; season with salt and pepper.

5. Finish & serve

Bake buns, cut side up, on top oven rack, until lightly golden-brown and toasted, 3–5 minutes (watch closely as ovens vary).

Drizzle each filet with katsu sauce and sandwich between buns with lettuce. Serve with fries alongside. Enjoy!

3. Dredge fish

Beat 2 large eggs in a shallow bowl. Place panko and ½ cup flour in 2 separate shallow dishes.

Dredge fish in flour, then dip into egg, letting excess drip back in bowl. Press into panko and turn to coat, pressing firmly to adhere.
