

20-Min: Korean Steak Stir-Fry

with Cellophane Noodles & Veggies

ca. 20min

2 Servings

Cellophane (also known as bean thread or glass noodles) are a key ingredient in Chinese cooking but can also be found in Korean, Japanese, and Southeast Asian cuisines. Once cooked, they become crystal clear—like glass. They have a delightfully sticky texture, making them the perfect addition to soups, salads, and stir-fry dishes.

1. Soak noodles

Soak noodles in a heatproof medium bowl filled with boiling water until tender, about 10 minutes. Drain in a fine-mesh sieve, then carefully using kitchen shears, cut noodles into smaller pieces.

2. Prep veggies

While noodles soak, trim sugar snap peas, if desired; thinly slice lengthwise. Halve bell pepper, discard stem and seeds, and cut lengthwise into thin strips. Finely chop 2 teaspoons garlic. Trim scallions, then cut into 2-inch pieces.

3. Brown steak strips

Heat 1 tablespoon neutral oil in a large nonstick skillet over high until shimmering. Pat steak strips dry. Add to skillet and cook, without stirring, until well browned on one side, about 3 minutes. Stir and continue to cook until beef is cooked through, about 2 minutes more. Transfer to a plate.

4. Cook peppers & aromatics

Heat 1 tablespoon neutral oil in same skillet over high until shimmering. Add peppers and cook, stirring occasionally, until peppers are softened, about 5 minutes. Stir in scallion pieces and chopped garlic, and cook until fragrant, about 1 minute.

5. Finish stir-fry

Add snap peas, steak strips, stir-fry sauce, sesame oil, and ¼ cup water to skillet; stir to combine. Bring to a simmer and cook until steak strips are warmed through, about 1 minute. Remove from heat and add noodles to skillet. Toss to coat noodles. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

6. Garnish stir-fry & serve

Coarsely chop cilantro leaves and tender stems together. Add half each of the cilantro and sesame seeds to noodles, tossing to combine. Serve steak stir-fry topped with remaining cilantro and sesame seeds. Enjoy!
