

Tamari-Glazed Steak

with Roasted Brussels Sprouts & Furikake Mayo

20-30min

2 Servings

Furikake is not only fun to say, but it's also super fun to eat. It's a Japanese seasoning that contains seaweed, sesame seeds, sugar, and salt. We add a dash to mayo to create an irresistible sauce that pairs perfectly with the umami flavors of tamari-glazed steak and hearty roasted Brussels sprouts and sweet potatoes. It's so nice, you'll want to make it twice.

1. Prep ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F with a rack in the upper third.

Scrub sweet potato, halve lengthwise, and cut into ¼-inch thick half-moons. Trim Brussels sprouts, then halve (or quarter, if large). On a rimmed baking sheet, toss vegetables with 1 tablespoon oil and season with salt and pepper. Roast on upper oven rack until vegetables are tender and browned in spots, about 20 minutes.

4. Season steaks

Pat steaks dry, then season all over with salt and pepper.

2. Season mayonnaise

Meanwhile, finely chop ½ teaspoon garlic. In a small bowl, stir to combine 2 tablespoons mayonnaise (save rest for own use), chopped garlic, 1 teaspoon furikake, and 1 teaspoon each of oil and water. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

5. Cook steaks

Heat 2 teaspoons oil in a medium heavy skillet (preferably cast-iron) over medium-high. Add steaks and cook until deeply browned and medium-rare, 2-3 minutes per side (or longer for desired doneness). Spoon tamari glaze over steaks in skillet. Cook over medium-high heat, turning steaks once, until glaze is thick and glossy, about 30 seconds.

3. Mix tamari glaze

In a small bowl, whisk to combine tamari, 1 teaspoon sugar, and 1 teaspoon oil; set aside for step 5.

6. Finish & serve

Transfer steaks to a cutting board and let rest for 5 minutes; slice, if desired. Serve tamari-glazed steak with roasted vegetables alongside and with furikake mayo for dipping. Garnish with extra furikake, if desired. Enjoy!
