Is there anything better than crisp onion rings served alongside a juicy burger? No, it is comfort food perfection. But we're always tweaking our techniques to make weeknight cooking a little easier. Here, we lighten up our favorite burger companion by ditching the frying and opting for a baked version. The result is crunchy and golden and without any stovetop top splatter.

1. Prep ingredients

Preheat oven to 450°F with a rimmed baking sheet set on a rack in the upper third. Cut onion crosswise into ½-inch thick slices; separate into rings. Finely chop 1 tablespoon pickles (reserve rest for garnish). In a small bowl, stir to combine mayonnaise, chopped pickles, and 2 tablespoons ketchup. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

4. Smash burgers

Divide ground turkey into 2 equal portions (do not form patties). Heat a large heavy skillet (preferably cast-iron) over high until very hot, about 2 minutes. Lightly brush with oil. Add turkey and smash each mound flat with a spatula, forming 5-inch patties. Season well with salt and cook, undisturbed, until outer edges are brown, about 2-3 minutes.

2. Coat onion rings

In a large bowl, combine ½ cup flour and ½ cup water; season with salt and pepper, then whisk until smooth. Add onion rings to bowl and toss to coat with batter. Place panko in a sealable bag; season with salt and pepper. Working in batches, add onion rings to bag, seal to close, then shake to coat onion rings with panko.

5. Flip burgers & toast buns

Flip burgers, season with salt, and cook until cooked through, 3-4 minutes more. Transfer to a plate. Pour off any fat from skillet.

Add buns, cut side down, to same skillet and toast until lightly browned, 1-2 minutes.

3. Bake onion rings

Carefully remove preheated baking sheet from oven, then generously drizzle with oil. Add onion rings in a single layer and drizzle more oil over top; season with salt. Bake on top oven rack, flipping once, until golden and crisp, about 20 minutes (watch closely as ovens vary).

6. Make salad & serve

In a medium bowl, whisk to combine all of the sour cream, ranch seasoning, 2 tablespoons water, 1 tablespoon oil, and 1 teaspoon vinegar. Add spinach and toss to coat.

Serve burgers on buns with a dollop of special sauce and remaining pickles. Serve salad, onion rings, and remaining special sauce alongside. Enjoy!
