

Coulotte Steak Fajita Bowl

with Peppers & Sour Cream

20-30min

2 Servings

Fajitas are a pretty perfect meal—except when you wrap one up and take a bite, only to have the filling fall out of the other end of the tortilla. Enter the fajita bowl. We've combined brown rice, sautéed peppers, and taco-spiced coulotte steak, and top it all off with fresh cilantro and a drizzle of sour cream. You'll get all the flavors of the sizzling dish in each tidy forkful.

What we send

- 5 oz quick-cooking brown rice
- 1 oz sour cream ⁷
- ¼ oz taco seasoning
- 1 poblano pepper
- 1 bell pepper
- 2 scallions
- ¼ oz fresh cilantro
- garlic
- 10 oz pkg coulotte steak

What you need

- kosher salt & ground pepper
- olive oil

Tools

- medium pot
- medium skillet

Cooking tip

Boiling rice in an unmeasured amount of water, then draining it through a fine-mesh sieve eliminates common issues with adding too much water (mushy rice) or too little water (crunchy rice).

1. Boil rice & prep crema

Fill a medium pot with salted water and bring to a boil. Add brown rice to boiling water and cook (like pasta) until rice is tender, about 20 minutes. Drain rice; return to pot and cover to keep warm.

In a small bowl, thin sour cream by stirring in 1 teaspoon water at a time, as needed. Season to taste with salt and pepper; set aside until ready to serve.

4. Cook peppers

Heat 1 tablespoon oil in a medium skillet over medium-high. Add poblano and bell peppers, remaining garlic and scallions, and a pinch each of salt and pepper. Cook, stirring occasionally, until peppers are softened and charred in spots, about 8 minutes (reduce heat if browning too quickly). Transfer to a bowl.

2. Marinate steak

Finely chop 2 teaspoons garlic. Pat steaks dry.

In a large bowl, stir to combine taco seasoning, 1 tablespoon oil, 1 teaspoon of the chopped garlic, and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Add steaks and turn to coat. Set aside to marinate at room temperature until step 5.

5. Cook steak

Heat 1 tablespoon oil in same skillet over medium-high. Add steaks and cook until browned on the bottom, 2-3 minutes. Flip steaks, then return cooked peppers to skillet along with ⅓ cup water. Reduce heat to medium; cover and cook until peppers are tender and steaks are medium-rare, about 3 minutes.

3. Prep ingredients

Halve poblano and bell peppers, discard stems and seeds, then cut each into 1-inch pieces. Trim scallions, then thinly slice. Pick cilantro leaves from stems; finely chop stems and coarsely chop half of the leaves, keeping remaining leaves whole.

Stir chopped cilantro stems and half of the sliced scallions into pot with cooked rice.

6. Finish & serve

Stir chopped cilantro leaves into skillet with steak and peppers. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Serve cilantro rice topped with steak, peppers, and any pan juices. Spoon seasoned sour cream over top, and garnish with whole cilantro leaves. Enjoy!
