Tray Bake: Pepperoni Pizza Subs with Mozzarella & Pepperoncini

under 20min

2 Servings

Pizzas and subs have always enjoyed a bit of friendly competition for the meal spotlight. But with this combo, everyone wins! First, we stuff baguettes with pepperoni, marinara sauce, and mozzarella, then bake until we reach the perfect balance of toasty and melty. We top it off with a refreshing mix of lettuce, shallot, pepperoncini, and vinegar for a tangy bite on these irresistibly cheesy pizza subs. We've got you covered!

1. Assemble pizza subs

Preheat oven to 400°F with a rack in the center. Split baguettes lengthwise, leaving a hinge on one side. Cut mozzarella into ¼-inch thick slices.

Shingle half of the pepperoni on bottom halves of bread (save remaining pepperoni for own use). Spread 2 tablespoons marinara sauce over pepperoni on each sandwich. Shingle mozzarella over sauce.

2. Bake

Place sandwiches in aluminum baking tray. Bake on center rack until crust is golden brown and cheese is melted, about 5 minutes.

Meanwhile, thinly slice half of the shallot and 1 cup lettuce (save remaining for own use). Thinly slice pepperoncini, if necessary.

3. Serve

In a medium bowl, toss together lettuce, shallot, half of the pepperoncini (save rest for own use), and a pinch of Italian spice. Dress to taste with oil and vinegar; season to taste with salt and pepper.

Divide salad mixture between sandwiches. Cut sandwiches in half, if desired. Enjoy!

4. Tray bake take two!

The foil tray that makes this tray bake so easy is reusable! Wash with dish soap and water, then dry thoroughly. Next time you're ready for a tray bake, spray the tray with nonstick cooking spray for even easier clean-up.
