

Chicken, Chickpea, Escarole & Orzo Stew

with Parmesan & Rosemary-Chili Oil

20-30min

2 Servings

This quick stew is the perfect comfort meal for a cool night. The key ingredient is escarole, a type of chicory that looks like lettuce, but it's much heartier and has a pleasantly bitter flavor. It simmers in an herbaceous tomato broth along with chicken, chickpeas, and little bits of orzo pasta. Serve it with a sprinkle of Parm, a drizzle of garlic-rosemary oil, and your biggest spoon.

1. Prep ingredients

Coarsely chop onion and 1 teaspoon garlic; thinly slice a 2nd garlic clove. Halve escarole lengthwise and rinse well under running water to remove any grit, then cut crosswise into ½-inch thick ribbons. Scrub carrot; halve lengthwise and thinly slice into half-moons. Pick and coarsely chop 1 tablespoon rosemary leaves. Reserve remaining rosemary sprigs for step 4.

4. Simmer stew

Add orzo, chickpeas and their liquid, whole rosemary sprigs, 3 cups water, and 1 teaspoon salt. Cover and bring to a boil. Reduce heat to medium and simmer, partially covered, stirring often to prevent orzo from sticking, until orzo is just al dente, 7-10 minutes. Remove and discard rosemary sprigs. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

2. Start stew

Pat chicken dry and season with salt and pepper. Heat 2 tablespoons oil in a medium pot over medium-high. Add chicken, carrots, onions, and a pinch each of salt and pepper. Cook, stirring, until veggies are slightly softened and chicken is golden brown. 5-7 minutes. Add 2 tablespoons of the tomato paste and cook, stirring, until slightly caramelized, about 3 minutes.

5. Make rosemary-chili oil

While soup simmers, in a small skillet, combine sliced garlic, chopped rosemary, ¼ cup oil, and ¼ teaspoon of the crushed red pepper. Cook over medium heat, stirring, until sizzling and garlic is just beginning to brown, about 3 minutes. Transfer to a heatproof bowl.

3. Add escarole

To the pot with chicken, carrots, and onions, add escarole, chopped garlic, and a pinch of salt and cook, stirring, until escarole is wilted, about 3 minutes.

6. Finish & serve

Coarsely grate Parmesan, if necessary. Stir half of the Parmesan into the stew. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve chicken, chickpea, escarole, and orzo stew topped with remaining Parmesan and a drizzle of the rosemary-chili oil. Enjoy!
