2 Servings

Delightfully thick and perfectly chewy fresh udon noodles take center stage in this noodle bowl. Tossed in an umami-packed sauce of tamari, hummus, and sesame oil, the noodles sit alongside crispy hoisin-glazed pork and lightly charred corn. 1. Prep ingredients

Bring a large saucepan of water to a boil. Trim scallions and thinly slice, keeping dark greens separate. Finely chop 2 large garlic cloves. In a large bowl, whisk together tamari, hummus, and 1 teaspoon sesame oil. Reserve ½ teaspoon sesame oil for Step 3 (save rest for own use).

4. Cook noodles

Add noodles to saucepan with boiling water and cook, stirring to separate, 1-2 minutes. Reserve ¼ cup cooking water; drain noodles.

Add noodles to bowl with tamari-hummus mixture. Stir rapidly, adding reserved cooking water 1 tablespoon at a time, until noodles are coated in a creamy sauce. Season to taste with salt, if desired.

2. Cook corn & pork

In a medium skillet, heat 1 teaspoon oil over high heat until smoking. Add corn; cook, stirring occasionally, until charred in spots, about 1 minute. Season to taste with salt and pepper; transfer to a plate.

Heat 1 teaspoon oil in same skillet over high heat until smoking. Add pork and cook, breaking into pieces with a wooden spoon, until deeply browned, 5-7 minutes.

5. Serve

Divide noodles between bowls. Top with pork, corn, scallion greens, and sesame seeds. Mix well and enjoy!

3. Glaze pork

Add scallion whites and light greens and garlic to skillet with pork; cook until aromatic, about 1 minute. Add 2 tablespoons hoisin and reserved ½ teaspoon sesame oil. Cook, stirring frequently, until meat is shiny and glazed, 1-2 minutes. Remove from heat. Drain off excess fat, if necessary. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

6. Liquid gold!

The silkiest, smoothest, clingiest sauces always contain one secret ingredient: starchy cooking water! As the noodles boil, the water gets starchy. Reserve the cooking liquid with a mug or measuring cup, then stir slowly into the tamari-hummus mixture for a creamy sauce that clings to every inch of our favorite chewy udon noodles.
