Lamb Burger & Feta-Oregano Fries with Baharat Ketchup

We love a good burger. You know, the kind with a toasty bun topped with a juicy lamb patty, dripping with ketchup, next to a heaping pile of fries. Yes to all that, but with a twist. We add warming baharat spice to the ketchup and toss crispy oven fries with feta cheese and dried oregano. Boom! It's everything you want in a burger plus so much more. We've got you covered!

1. Bake fries

Preheat oven to 450°F with a rack in the lower third. Scrub potatoes, then cut lengthwise into ½-inch thick wedges. Place on a rimmed baking sheet and toss with 2 tablespoons oil; season with salt and pepper. Roast on lower oven rack until crisp and golden brown on the bottom, 20 minutes. Flip and continue to bake until crispy, 5–10 minutes more.

2. Prep ketchup & burgers

In a small bowl, combine ¼ cup ketchup and 1 teaspoon baharat spice; mix well and set aside for step 5.

Shape lamb into 2 (4-inch) patties; transfer to a plate and season all over with salt and pepper.

3. Toast buns

Heat 1 tablespoon oil in a medium skillet over medium-high. Brush cut sides of buns with oil. Place buns cut side down in skillet and toast until lightly browned, about 1 minute (watch closely). Transfer buns to a plate.

4. LAMB VARIATION

In same skillet, heat 1 tablespoon oil over medium-high. Add burgers and cook until well browned and medium-rare, about 3 minutes per side (or longer for desired doneness).

5. Assemble & serve

Use your fingers to crumble feta over fries. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon oregano and a pinch of salt over top; toss to combine. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Place burgers on toasted buns and top with baharat ketchup. Serve feta-oregano fries alongside. Enjoy!

6. Pro tip: home fries!

If your fries are sticking to the baking sheet after 20 minutes, don't force it! Try cooking them a few more minutes before flipping. Once a crisp layer has formed underneath, the potatoes will naturally release from the pan.
