

Beef Wonton Stir-Fry

with Fresh Noodles & Mushrooms

 30-40min  2 Servings

Tamari is a type of Japanese soy sauce that contains less wheat than regular soy sauce. Since it is made largely from fermented soy, it has a deeper flavor. Here, we use the savory condiment as a sauce to coat fresh pasta sheets, cut into bite-sized squares that mimic wonton wrappers.

What we send

- 1 piece fresh ginger
- garlic
- ½ lb broccoli
- 4 oz snow peas
- 4 oz mushrooms
- 10 oz pkg beef strips
- 2 oz tamari soy sauce ³
- ½ oz toasted sesame oil ²
- 8.8 oz lasagna sheets ^{1,4}

What you need

- neutral oil
- 2 large eggs ¹
- sugar
- apple cider vinegar (or white wine vinegar)

Tools

- large saucepan
- medium nonstick skillet

1. Prep ingredients

Bring a large saucepan of water to a boil. Cover and keep warm over low heat until step 5.

Peel and finely chop 1 tablespoon ginger. Finely chop 1 teaspoon garlic.

Cut broccoli into 1-inch florets, if necessary. Trim ends from snow peas. Trim ends from mushrooms, then thinly slice caps. Pat beef dry and season with salt and pepper.

4. Scramble eggs

Transfer beef to plate with vegetables.

In a small bowl, beat 2 large eggs. Heat 1 teaspoon neutral oil in same skillet over medium-high. Add eggs and cook, stirring, until just set, about 30 seconds. Use a spatula to break eggs into smaller pieces, then transfer to plate with vegetables.

2. Sauté mushrooms

Heat 1 tablespoon neutral oil in a medium nonstick skillet over medium-high. Add sliced mushrooms and cook, stirring occasionally, until browned all over, about 5 minutes. Add chopped ginger and garlic and snow peas. Cook, stirring, until snow peas are crisp-tender, about 1 minute. Transfer to a plate.

5. Prep sauce & pasta

In a small bowl, stir to combine all of the tamari, sesame oil, and 1 teaspoon each of sugar and vinegar. Stack pasta sheets, a few at a time, and cut into 1-inch squares. Return water in saucepan to a boil. Add pasta squares to boiling water and cook until just al dente, 1-2 minutes. Reserve 2 tablespoons cooking water, then drain pasta squares well.

3. Sauté broccoli & beef

Heat 1 teaspoon neutral oil in same skillet over medium-high. Add broccoli and cook, stirring, until crisp-tender and browned in spots, 3-4 minutes. Transfer to plate with mushrooms and snow peas.

Heat 1 tablespoon neutral oil in same skillet over medium-high. Add beef; cook until browned on the bottom, about 3 minutes. Stir; cook until cooked through, about 2 minutes

6. Finish & serve

Heat 1 tablespoon neutral oil in same skillet over medium-high. Add pasta squares, beef, vegetables, and eggs, stirring to combine. Stir sauce, then add to skillet along with reserved cooking water. Stir-fry until pasta is nicely coated, 2-3 minutes. Enjoy!
