

Fruity Probiotic Smoothie Bowl

with Apples & Honey-Glazed Walnuts

under 20min

2 Servings

Notes from our dietitian: Listen to your gut (and optimize its health) by digging into this fruity bowl that combines the probiotics in Greek yogurt with plenty of soluble fiber from apples, chia, and flax. Pineapple and honey are blended in for the perfect sweetness and an added boost of digestive enzymes. Add this smoothie bowl to your week for a no-hassle, nutrient-packed breakfast, lunch, or snack!

What we send

- 2 (1 oz) walnuts ¹⁵
- 2 (½ oz) honey
- 2 apples
- 2 (4 oz) pineapple cups
- ½ oz freeze dried strawberries
- 4 oz Greek yogurt ⁷
- ¼ oz chia seeds
- ¼ oz ground flax seeds

What you need

- neutral oil
- kosher salt
- ½ c ice

Tools

- small nonstick skillet
- blender

Allergens

Milk (7), Tree Nuts (15). May contain traces of other allergens. Packaged in a facility that packages gluten containing products.

Nutrition per serving

Calories 490kcal, Fat 24g, Carbs 61g, Protein 13g

1. Toast walnuts

Heat 1 teaspoon oil in a small nonstick skillet over medium-high. Add walnuts and cook, stirring, until lightly toasted, 3-4 minutes (watch closely). Remove from heat.

Squeeze 1 packet of the honey over walnuts and stir until nuts are coated. Transfer to a plate and season with a pinch of salt.

2. Prep apples

Quarter apples (no need to peel); remove stems and cores, then cut thinly slice fruit.

Transfer ¾ cup apple slices to a small bowl and reserve for step 6. Transfer remaining apple to a blender.

3. Add remaining ingredients

Strain pineapple.

To blender with apples, add pineapple, freeze-dried strawberries, yogurt, flax seeds, remaining honey, and half of the chia seeds.

4. Add ice

Add ½ cup ice to blender.

5. Blend smoothie

Blend smoothie on high until smooth. Transfer smoothie to bowls.

6. Finish & serve

Coarsely chop toasted walnuts.

Top smoothie bowls with chopped walnuts, reserved apple slices, and remaining chia seeds. Enjoy!