1. Brown butter

In a small saucepan, melt 7 tablespoons butter over medium heat. Cook, swirling saucepan and stirring constantly with spatula, until butter is dark golden brown and has nutty aroma, 2–5 minutes. Transfer to a medium bowl and stir in 2 teaspoons warm spice. Chill in fridge until solid but still soft, about 20 minutes.

Finely chop crystallized ginger.

2. Make dough

To bowl with brown butter, add 1 cup confectioners' sugar, 1½ tablespoons molasses powder, and 2 teaspoons vanilla. Beat with an electric mixer until smooth and creamy, scraping down sides of bowl as needed, about 2 minutes. Add 1 large egg white; beat on high speed until pale and fluffy, about 2 minutes. Add ¾ cup + 1 tablespoon flour; beat until just mixed, about 30 seconds.

3. Chill dough

Stir half of the ginger into dough. Cover and chill in fridge for 2 hours (or overnight).

Preheat oven to 375°F with racks in the upper and lower thirds. Line 2 rimmed baking sheets with parchment paper.

4. Bake cookies

On a plate, combine 2 tablespoons granulated sugar, remaining molasses powder, and 1 teaspoon warm spice.

Scoop dough and roll into 1 tablespoon-sized balls. Roll in sugar mixture and place at least 1 inch apart on prepared baking sheets. Bake on upper and lower oven racks until set and lightly browned around edges, 10–12 minutes. Cool on wire racks.

5. Make chocolate glaze

In a medium bowl, microwave white chocolate and 1 tablespoon each of water and butter 15 seconds at a time, stirring in between, until melted. Stir in remaining confectioners' sugar. Thin with 1 teaspoon water at a time until glaze drops from whisk in thick ribbons.

6. Decorate & serve

Dip cookies halfway into glaze; return to wire rack. Sprinkle with raw sugar and remaining ginger.

Let glaze set before serving gingersnap cookies. Enjoy!
